

I think the NJ DO NOT CALL should stay effective. Businesses trying to reach new customers should spend money in advertising, rather than taking our family time by making a phone call that is almost free. Why should we pay for their marketing?